Christmas Dance To Be Held Dec. 19

A festive prelude to the Christmas holidays will be "the Snowflake Formal," this season's traditional Christmas ball to be presented by the Associated Students of the Huntington Beach memorial hall, on December 19th.

The dance, which will last from 10:00 until 12:00 p. m., will feature the band music of Mr. Gordon Wheatley's "Men of Note." The decorations for the hall will be done by Las Menninas, with the help of the other service clubs.

Formal invitations for the Christmas dance went on sale Wednesday, December 10th, at the price of $1.20 per couple.

Patrons for the formal will be Miss Dorothy Decker, Miss Genevieve Humiston, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Knutson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wenstrom.

In consideration of the Christmas dance, the A.W.S. plan to establish a date bureau, where for a small nominal fee the bureau will arrange dates for those students who would like to attend the dance, but whom do not have bids.

Helping to make the dance a success, the Las Hildalgas have made bids, the Bachelors club will be in charge of refreshments and the Los Caballeros will take care of checking.

ASB TICKET DEADLINE SET

Deadline for final payment of Associated Student Body tickets will be January 15, according to a motion passed at a recent executive board meeting.

Formerly the deadline had been set for December 15, but according to Bob Elsner, AS president, the executive board felt that not enough notice had been given those owing money on their cards. Postponing the deadline until after the Christmas vacation was arranged to give students an additional opportunity to earn money to pay the final installments.

If the cards are not fully paid for by the January 15 deadline the card will be called in and the student will lose Associated Student privileges.

SAC Tuberculosis Drive Starts Today

Christmas seals will go on sale today on the SAC campus, according to Bob Elsner, AS president who has charge of the project. The seals are sold each year around Christmas time to get money to help fight tuberculosis.

SAC was enlisted by Mrs. Ann Hainey at the weekly AS executive board meeting Tuesday to help in the annual drive to raise funds on campus.

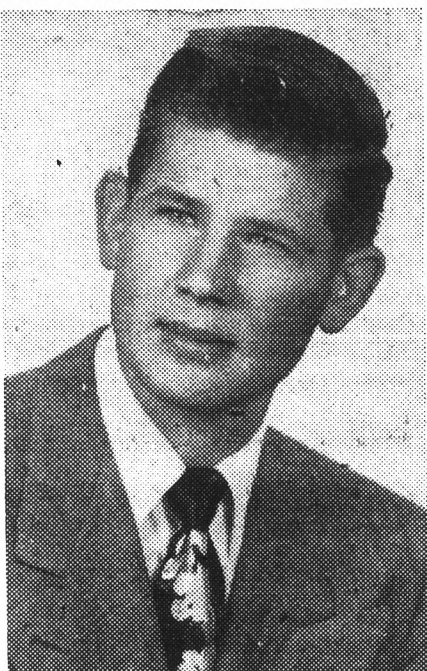

Members of the executive board will canvass classes today selling the Christmas seals and all students are urged to contribute. Coin displays will also be located in the snack bar, administration building and library so that students can contribute their spare dimes and pennies to the fund.

TOWARD BETTER GOVERNMENT

A trend toward widespread student interest in SAC student government was evidenced last week when petitions had been turned in for twenty-two student offices. Every office which has voting privileges on the student executive board will be hotly contested next week.

This increased student interest will result in better student government for the coming semester, with more widely distributed representation of students as well as stronger student leaders.

The candidates have all stressed the desire to run. It is now up to the student electorate to investigate each candidate, ascertain their qualifications and experience, and then elect to office the most able candidate.

In the past several semester, voting has been light. It is the hope of the EL DON that voting will reach far above the 106 ballots which were cast in last semester's election. Only in this way can good student government result.

PROLIFIC SUNFLOWER OUT TO PROVE TWO HEADS ARE BETTER THAN ONE

'Great Books' Series Available At Library

The "Great Books of the Western World" series has been recently acquired by the Santa Ana College library and is on display in Building Q.

Called "the most ambitious publishing project in years" by the "Saturday Review of Literature," the series contains the works of the world's greatest thinkers and writers. The 54 volume work spans several centuries in content and has among others the works of Plato, Aristotle, Chaucer, Rabelais, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Bacon, Descartes, Newton, Goethe, Swift, Melville, Darwin, Marx, and Freud.

The "Great Books" edition is the culmination of the efforts of a panel headed by Murray Adler and Robert Hutchins, and was published by the "Encyclopedia Britannica" at a cost well over a million dollars.

Growing on the north side of building M is an unusual specimen of the common sunflower that has over thirty auxiliary flower heads besides the main large head at the top.

Ordinarily the common sunflower, known for its large, edible seeds, has only one flower at the top of the plant. However, this certain specimen has become eccentric and produced a small flower at the base of almost every leaf on the entire stalk. This is common in certain other species of the sunflower group, but not run of the mill in the common species.

Mr. J. Russell Bruff, botany and zoology instructor at Santa Ana College, hopes to obtain seed from the flower to ascertain the possibility of the sunflower's many-flowered characteristic being hereditary.

Cookie Recipe Wins Ellen Clarke Cash, N. Y. Trip

Ellen Clarke, SAC freshman, was the lucky recipient of a one hundred dollar check, a round trip ticket for two to New York City and a stay at the Waldorf Astoria recently.

Ellen, chosen as a finalist in the Pillsbury Grand National Baking Contest, competed this week in the final contest bake-off at the Astoria. Competing along with her were 19 other junior and 80 senior contestants.

Exhibiting her mastery of culinary art by baking cookies from her own recipe, Ellen submitted them to the Pillsbury Baking Company and was chosen as a finalist.

Prizes in the two sections of the contest will total more than $100,000. Ellen has a chance to win $3,000 and General Electric kitchen equipment.

Her mother, Mrs. William Clarke, accompanied her on the trip East.

Campus Spotlight

By Bob and Bill

Santa Ana College has proved more than a stepping stone between the Marine Corps and UCLA for Bob Silver. For Bob's the man who has organized the AMS and Vets club on campus, and been president of both.

In Many Activities

Bob has devoted more than his share to extra-curricular activities. Besides being the guiding light behind more than one organization, he has sponsored contests, been on the Fiesta committee, warmed the bench as a reserve guard during football season, and has maintained a B average all in the short space of two semesters at SAC.

Rounding out his general academic education at night classes while still in the service, Bob decided Santa Ana College would be a good place to learn the fundamentals of geology before invading UCLA.

Austin Is Home

Outside of college activities, Bob has spent what leisure time left him in converting his Austin panel truck into a bachelor's mobile apartment. His long range plans for the Austin had a serious setback recently when his rubber-mounted home encountered a parked flat bed truck. But the delay in the installation of a stove, hot water, refrigerator, short wave radio, sink, ski rack, and shower is only temporary, Bob claims.

For being selected for the "Campus Spotlight" this week, Bob will receive a free 11x14 photo from Oliver and Loving Photo Studios, located in the Arcade Building on South Main.

CHANCELLORS OF THE EXCHEQUER—Associated Student president Bob Silver and business manager Glenn Walls total up receipts and balance the budget against the first semester's activity program.

Assoc. Students, AWS, AMS Sponsor College's Extra-Curricular Program

Assemblies, dances, plays, athletics, conferences, banquets . . . whatever college activity you can name, it will be 10 to 1 that it's sponsored by the Associated Students, the AWS, or the AMS.

With interest centering this week on the student elections, a review of the past three month's calendar is in order.

Successful Social Program

The college social program began in good form with the "Get Acquainted" dance, closely followed by the Chuck Wagon dinner, the "Sagebrush Shuffle," and the freshman sponsored "Skeleton Scramble." Along with these were the Inter-Club council sponsored Homecoming dance and queen contest, and the forthcoming Football Banquet and Christmas Formal dance.

Student conferences were a big part of the first semester program, with the Associated Student executive board hosting the Eastern Conference Student Government Conference and attending the Fullerton southern regional and the State JC student government conclave at Hollywood.

International Football

The athletic end of the Associated Student program took on an international flavor this year with the Dons hosting Mexico City Poly for the opening game and flying to Mexico last week to cap the football schedule with a return match. The forty-five hundred dollar jaunt was financed through football receipts and Associated Student ticket sales.

The newly formed Associated Men's Students got into the act this semester, selling football programs, drafting a constitution, and organizing a broad activity program for next semester.

Women were active also, as AWS and WAA representatives traveled to the coed's conference at Long Beach. The AWS, WAA, and YWCA are now sponsoring the traditional Christmas welfare project.

Other activities include the football rallies and assemblies, the El Don-Torch "Ink Bowl" football game, and the presentation of "Gayden" by the college drama department.

Christmas Tips

By Valerie McKeown

The Christmas holidays are here again and with them come the same wonderful festive spirit, the same beloved Christmas carols, and yes, the same tide of late Christmas shoppers.

This year, why not resolve to do your Christmas shopping early and save precious moments of exhaustive last minute shopping?

The stores are brimful of ideas for gifts for every member of the family, as well as just the thing you've been looking for, for the "special" girl or boy.

For the book lover, you will find just the right book at the Santa Ana Book Store or the Booksellers. And if you're the kind of girl that just can't do without a pair of knitting needles, then you can compensate by buying him some of those beautiful argyle socks at Vandermast's.

Every girl loves beautiful jewelry and any boy can find just that at both Van Deusen's and Lorenz's jewelry stores. For dress up, cuff links and tie clips make perfect conversation piece for the male student.

And who wouldn't be proud to own one of the smart new cashmere sweaters that are featured at Hugh J. Lowe's and Sons?

Yes, Christmas is coming and with it the customary joy of giving to those we appreciate.

Orange County Author's Corner Dedicated At Writer's Festival; Noted Writers Form Panels

Four of the nation's top cartoonists were members of the discussion panel at the recent Writers Festival held in the campus library recently. Sponsored by the Tavern Tattlers, the creative writing class, and the library science class, the thirteenth annual Writers Festival was highlighted by the dedication of the Authors Corner in the library.

Ed Nofziger, the creator of Animal Antics; Roger Armstrong, artist for Napoleon and Ella Cinders; Phil Interland, cartoonist for Colliers and Saturday Evening Post; and Burr Shafer, another Post contributor and cartoonist for the Saturday Review of Literature, all spoke during the afternoon question and answer period.

Writers Panel Formed

Introducing the many writers seated at the discussion panel were Bill Shands and John Dowden, Tavern Tattler members and El Don editors. The panel was divided into the various types of professional writing, poetry, non-fiction, fiction, and cartooning.

Each division was well represented. Allan Vaughan Elston,

Santa Ana writer noted for his western stories and mysteries, told how he got the background for his authentic novels. Virginia and Charles Lamb, speaking for the non-fiction group explained how they got source material for their books and movies.

Authors from every section of the panel explained to the 200 people present the various problems facing beginning writers and how to break into a particular field of writing.

Corner Dedicated

Eleanora Jewell, representing both library and literary groups of Santa Ana College, made the dedication of the Orange County Authors Corner. During the tea that followed the discussion period, the authors autographed their books that were on sale in the library.

Scientific Preview Given Students At Assembly

"Unlimited opportunities are awaiting the youth of America, if they have a sincere desire for accomplishment." This was proved to members of the SAC student body and faculty Wednesday in an assembly sponsored by General Motors.

The use of original experiments in the field of popular science was used to illustrate this idea. Students were shown, by visual methods, many of the items that the laboratory scientists are now working on.

Tempered Bottle Used

To illustrate the principles of the strength of materials a tempered bottle was used. Synthetic rubber was produced and when finished, it literally jumped out of the bottle.

It was proven to the students that a musical note was capable of breaking a goblet in the experiment used to explain vibrational control.

Experiments Completed

From the beginning of Morse code to the transmission of sound on a beam of light, a complete scale model of a jet plane to demonstrate jet propulsion and the operation of a motor operated by the heart from a candle and the light from a 150-watt lamp completed the experiments for the hour.

SAC Bloodmobile Visit Scheduled For Next Year

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit SAC on March 4, 1953 to collect blood from members of the student body, faculty and employees.

Mr. Ernest Crain, faculty member in charge, stated that a six-bed unit will be here on that date.

Cards will be distributed to all students so that they may make appointment for donations. For all students under 18, parental consent must also be obtained.

In the past years an average of 100 pints a visit was collected and Mr. Crain hopes that the student body can far surpass the record during this visit.

Previously the blood has been collected in the Student Union and plans are being made to locate the mobile unit there in March also.

The Dons were defeated by the hosting "Burros Blancos" 20 to 13.

Banquet at Ciro's

While in the Mexican capital, the team was feted at Mexico City's annual football banquet at the internationally famous Ciro's, visited many sights of interest, and enjoyed Mexican hospitality. Said Jim Matsunaga, team co-captain, "They treated us like kings."

Sites visited included the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the shrine of Guadalupe, the castle of Maximilian, the Palace of Fine Arts, the Aztec pyramids, the bull fights, and the University of Mexico City. All were impressed by the modern architecture of the town and its hospitality.

Fullerton Shades Santa Ana 7 to 6 In Traditional Turkey Day Rivalry; Wilcox In 100 Yard Scoring Jaunt

Santa Ana's Dons closed out the current E.C. football campaign Thanksgiving day by dropping a close 7-6 decision to Fullerton's Hornets at College Stadium in Fullerton.

In losing the Dons fell into a third place deadlock with Fullerton in the final standings.

Dull First Half

Neither team displayed the fiery brand of ball they had shown in earlier games. The first half was unexciting as both squads failed to get much of an offensive under way.

The Hornets broke into the scoring column early in the third period. Tailback Jewell Owens tossed four yards to end Russ Wylie who made a diving grab on the goal line to culminate a sustained drive. Keith Gaynes booted the extra point.

Moments later the Dons found themselves with their back to the wall again. But with first down and goal to go on the SAC 6, Owens' hurried pass was intercepted on the goal line by Jack Wilcox who raced 100 yards behind good blocking for the score. Wilcox's attempted conversion, after the Dons were penalized back to the seven, was low and wide to the left.

SAC Halted

Santa Ana drove 80 yards to the Fullerton 8-yard line late in the fourth quarter, but Bob Smith's first down pass was picked off by linebacker Paul Torena and returned 56 yards to the SAC 40. The Hornets were on the march again as the game ended.

Matsunaga Is Don of the Week

Jim Matsunaga, first string SAC guard, was selected as the tenth Don of the Week by popular voting at Vandermast's Clothing Store.

Matsunaga, a sophomore at Santa Ana, is co-captain of the football team. Although out the first part of the season due to injuries, Jim has come along fast in the last few games.

In the Turkey Day skirmish with Fullerton Matsunaga played a standout game, rushing the passer and throwing runners for substantial losses.

On offense Jim cleared the way for the Don ball carriers by opening large holes in the Fullerton forward wall.

Dons Whipped By Vikings, 102 to 42

Traveling to Long Beach in search of their first victory of the season, Santa Ana College's basketball team were outclassed by the City College Vikings 102-42 Tuesday, December 2.

Paced by Earl Miller, 6'7" center who scored 22 points, the well-balanced Long Beach squad averaged better than a basket a minute. The Vikings jumped off to a commanding 18-0 lead and were never headed by a short but determined Don quintet.

Leading the scoring parade for the Dons was Bob Youel, who tanked 13. Close behind was Tim Peralta with 12 points.

MEXICO POLY TOPPLES DONS IN SEASON FINALE; SCORE: 20-13

Dealt a 20-13 defeat by Mexico Poly, Santa Ana College gridders wound up the 1952 season in Mexico City Saturday with a 6-4-1 slate.

The Dons easily outclassed this same Mexico Poly team in their season opener, 27 to 12 at Municipal Bowl.

Santa Ana scored first on a 40-yard pass and run play, quarterback Joe Voso to end Dave Sitton. Jack Wilcox converted.

Poly's White Burros retaliated immediately. After recovering a Don bobble on the SAC 35-yard stripe, the Mexicans needed only two plays to hit pay dirt. Juan Ramiro skirted wide from the eight for the tally. Trapero added the extra point to square matters at 7-7.

Santa Ana moved 70 yards in eight plays to surge ahead 13-7 just before the first period ended. Bob Holder climaxed the march by snagging a 3-yard toss from Joe Voso.

Fullback Jose Trapero put the Burros ahead to stay in the second stanza, rambling 10 yards for a touchdown after taking a lateral. His place kick made it 14-13.

In the third period Trapero scooted nine yards with another pitchout for Poly's final scoring effort.

Harbor Seahawk In Fast Finish; Dons Fall, 76-64

Santa Ana's basketball five had yet to gain a victory after suffering their second setback of the season at the hands of Harbor JC, 76-64, in a game played last Monday at Andrew's gymnasium.

Off to Good Start

SAC got off to a good start by sinking two baskets in the first minute of play, but the lead was short lived. Harbor's Marvin Ruehel, who hit for 36 points, opened the Hawk's scoring, which was halted momentarily late in the first period.

The second stanza was a mix and tuck affair, with neither side being able to extend their lead by more than four points. At halftime the count was 39-all.

After intermission the Dons again began to roll. Flipping three straight from the floor, SAC took a six point lead which was the widest margin held by either squad so far. Switching to zone defense, the Dons held down Harbor's scoring and led at the end of the third quarter 53-51.

Dons Falter

But in the fourth quarter Santa Ana's defense collapsed. Placing their towering forwards under the hoop, the visitors began a barrage of baskets and were never overtaken.

Harbor's Ruehel was high point man for the night with 36 points. Tim Peralta and Dick Cruze paced the Dons with 14 points apiece.

Today the team will travel to Mt. Palomar for a contest which is slated to start at 8 p. m.
